February 22, 2002

After a concentrated effort by the Heritage Resource Management Branch, it is my pleasure to announce the completion of the 3rd edition of the Listing of Significant Historical Sites and Areas (listing). This edition of the listing is to be implemented for regulatory approval processes starting on April 1, 2002.

The following pages and instructions are the beginning of the compilation of a guideline regarding how historical resource issues are to be integrated into the oil and gas industry activities.

Should you require additional information or have any questions regarding the historical resources management program for the oil and gas industry, or how to use the 3rd edition of the Listing of Significant Historical Sites and Areas, do not hesitate to contact staff of the Protection and Stewardship section at (780) 431-2300, or fax (780) 427-3956.

Sincerely,

Mark Rasmussen
Assistant Deputy Minister

LISTING OF SIGNIFICANT HISTORICAL SITES AND AREAS (THIRD EDITION)

HISTORICAL RESOURCES MANAGEMENT PROGRAM FOR THE OIL & GAS INDUSTRY

The listing is the cornerstone in the historical resources management program (program) for the oil and natural gas industry, and it is the key reference document in regulating small scale projects, including Class II pipelines, compressor stations, gas processing facilities, geophysical survey programs, oil and gas batteries, pipeline surface installations, well site leases and their associated access roads. One of the main considerations in compiling the 3rd edition is the need to carry out pilot studies to identify the most efficient and effective procedures for implementing the second phase of the program for the oil and gas industry. The phases of the program are discussed within the Cultural Resource Management and the Energy Industry: New Perspectives and Partnerships report and Appendix 2 of the EUB's Guide 56: Energy Development Application Guide and Appendices. Other considerations in updating the listing is the need to develop cross industry level playing fields, and the need to identify areas where known significant historical resources have been recorded and it is anticipated that additional significant historical resources are present (e.g. Manyberries Badlands Environmentally Significant and Sensitive Site)

The First Phase

The emphasis of the first phase is the protection of Alberta's most significant historical resources, and the management of other previously recorded historical resources that require avoidance and/or the conduct of additional historical resource studies.

The Second Phase

The second phase of the program involves those oil and gas activities that are targeted for lands that are considered to possess high potential for the presence of historical resources (e.g. terraces, valley slopes and prairie bluffs along the Red Deer River). Currently, only a very small portion of the "High Potential Lands" that are located within the Province have been added to the 3rd edition of the listing. The listing may not be the most appropriate reference for identifying all "High Potential Lands" in the Province. Over the long term, other strategies and reference sources will be considered to include "High Potential Lands" within the Historical Resources Act clearance processes.

Pilot Studies

Prior to implementing the second phase of the program on a Province wide basis it is necessary to conduct pilot studies to determine what changes need to be made to our existing policies, processes and procedures. Some of the pilot study areas involve the inclusion of historical resources issues within larger planning strategies (e.g. Millar Western Industries Ltd.'s FMA and the NES Sustainable Resource and Environmental Management Strategy). Other pilot studies (e.g. Ribstone Creek Heritage Rangeland Natural Area) involve the integration of historical resource issues into other government agency approval processes. The pilot studies will provide the opportunity to use different approaches to address historical resources issues. This should result in the identification of the most appropriate and efficient mechanisms that can be used to implement the second phase of the historical resources management program for the oil and natural gas industry.

WHEN TO USE THE LISTING

When an applicant is considering an oil and gas industry related activity, the applicant should check the listing to determine if any of the lands affected by the activity are described within the listing. Table 1.0 Revision 1 illustrates how historical resources are to be considered vis-à-vis specific types of oil and gas industry activities. Generally, if the activity is located on lands that are described within the listing, the activity requires Historical Resources Act clearance.

The Listing of Significant Historical Sites and Areas has been incorporated into several guidelines and application approval processes.

EUB Well Licensing Application Process

The inclusion of historical resources within the EUB's "Well Licence" application-approval process is discussed within the EUB's Energy Development Application Guide and Schedule Appendix 2, Volume 2 of 2. Prior to submitting a "Well Licence" application to the EUB, the applicant must check the Listing of Significant Historical Sites and Areas. Should the well be located on lands that are described within the listing, the applicant must obtain Historical Resources Act clearance. Specifically, in Section 9 of Schedule 4 of the "Well Licence Application", the applicant must check the YES box next to the statement:

The proposed well site requires Historical Resources Act clearance (Freehold land only).

If the well site does not involve listed lands, the applicant is to check the NO box next to the aforementioned statement.

Siting Information Report

The statement that is contained in Section 9 of Schedule 4 is conditional upon the lands being "Freehold". Consequently, some applicants have considered well site leases situated on crown lands to be exempt from the necessity of obtaining Historical Resources Act clearance. This is not the case. In November 2001, the Public Lands Division of Alberta Sustainable Resource Development implemented the "Siting Information Report". This report addresses activities associated with oil and gas drilling and production on White Area public lands and a copy of the report is to accompany all oil and gas applications and amendments under the Public Lands Act. The following question is asked:

Is Historical Resources Act clearance required?

The instructions attached to the report refer the applicant to the Listing of Significant Historical Sites and Areas.

When Does an Applicant Require Historical Resources Act Clearance?

An applicant should obtain Historical Resources Act clearance whenever the proposed activity will occur on lands that are described on the 3rd edition of the Listing of Significant Historical Sites and Areas.

HOW TO USE THE LISTING

The 3rd edition of the listing describes approximately 5400 sections or portions of sections.

Historical Resource Value(s)

One of the main components of the listing is that each historical resource and the land parcel upon which it is located have been assigned an historical resource value (HRV), ranging from "1" to "5". The HRV is a useful tool in determining the level of historical resource sensitivity and possible surface access restrictions. Under the Historical Resources Act the highest level of protection is afforded to those sites that have been designated as Provincial Historic Resource(s). Sites that have been protected at this level are considered to be the most important resources that have been recorded within the Province and have been assigned an HRV of "1" (e.g. Majorville Cairn & Medicine Wheel). The HRV of "1" is also used to identify lands that are owned by Alberta Community Development for historical resources protection and promotion purposes (e.g. Fort George-Buckingham House). The historical resource is not to be impacted and it is unlikely that surface access would be granted to HRV "1" lands. If access were granted it would be under very stringent operating conditions. At the lower end of the historical resource value scale, an HRV of "5" indicates that the lands are considered to be "High Potential Lands". Although historical resources have not been recorded on these lands it is likely that historical resources are present within the described land parcel. Depending upon the activity, an Historical Resources Impact Assessment may or may not be required. Any historical resource sites that are encountered during the impact assessment would be assigned an historical resource value of "3", "4" or "0". The value of "0" indicates that the affected historical resources are considered to be of low value, and site avoidance and/or additional studies are not required. For further explanation regarding historical resource values and the practical use of these values, refer to the attached tables.

HOW TO OBTAIN HISTORICAL RESOURCES ACT CLEARANCE

During 2002, the CFHRD will adapt for Historical Resources Act requirement and clearance purposes the EUB's concept of non-routine versus routine applications.

Non-routine Applications

Non-routine applications will involve those activities that are targeted for lands that contain the Province's most important historical resources. These lands have been assigned an Historical Resource Value of "1", "2" or "3". Staff of the CFHRD will continue to play a major role in the review of activities on HRV "1", "2" and "3" lands, and Historical Resources Impact Assessment orders (commonly referred to as Schedule A letters) will be sent to the applicant under my signature. Specific information (e.g. plan of survey, land ownership plan) is to be sent directly to staff of:

Routine Applications

Activities that are targeted for lands that have been assigned an Historical Resource Value of "4" or "5" will be considered routine. The CFHRD would prefer to implement a self-directed process in which the applicants and their historical resources consultants routinely determine if an application requires the conduct of an Historical Resources Impact Assessment. For a trial period of April 1, 2002 to April 1, 2003, applicants are to retain historical resources consultants to submit "Historical Resources Overviews" for routine applications.

Generally, overviews acknowledge the reason why the land is described within the listing and recognize the presence of any historical resources that are situated within the vicinity of the proposed activity(ies). Overviews must also clearly identify the types and location of the proposed land surface disturbance activities. Illustrative materials should include a plan of survey or land ownership plan, and a copy of the appropriate 1:50,000 scale NTS map sheet onto which the proposed activities and any existing historical resources are highlighted. Additionally, the historical resources consultant must evaluate the potential for the activity to impact historical resources and make recommendations as to whether an Historical Resources Impact Assessment should be conducted. In keeping with the principle to avoid micro-managing activities, the CFHRD will normally concur with careful recommendations. In some cases, when it is very apparent that an Historical Resources Impact Assessment is not required (e.g. re-entry to an existing location that has been previously stripped), the applicant can submit the overview. "Historical Resources Overviews" are to be submitted to the Protection and Stewardship section at the above address.

During the trial period my staff will investigate the possibility of developing non-referral systems for routine applications. This will include consideration of how the Siting Information Report, Environmental Field Report, Area Operating Agreements, and other existing and proposed reporting mechanisms can be used instead of, or in support of, "Historical Resources Overviews".

HISTORICAL RESOURCES IMPACT ASSESSMENTS

In recognizing the non-renewable nature of historical resources, Section 37 of the Historical Resources Act (HRA) provides the framework for Historical Resources Impact Assessments (HRIAs) and mitigative studies. When, in the opinion of Alberta Community Development, an activity is likely to result in the alteration, damage or destruction of historical resources, the person undertaking the activity can be required to:

- * conduct an HRIA on the lands that are to be affected by the activity;
- * prepare and submit a report discussing the results of the assessment; and,
- * undertake salvage, preservation or protective measures.

The majority of HRIAs require the applicant to retain the services of a consulting archaeologist qualified to hold an Archaeological Research Permit within the Province of Alberta. In many instances, the services of a consulting palaeontologist qualified to hold a Palaeontological Collection Permit within the Province of Alberta are required. In fewer instances, the services of a qualified historian are required.

An HRIA could have archaeological, palaeontological and historic sites concerns and requirements. For the most part, the field studies associated with HRAs are to be completed prior to the initiation of any land surface disturbance activities.

Reporting the Results of an Historical Resources Impact Assessment

A report discussing the results of the assessment must be submitted to the Cultural Facilities and Historical Resources Division of Alberta Community Development. Frequently, an applicant is unable to delay the development schedule for a period of time sufficient for the historical resources consultants to complete the final report submission requirements. Consequently, interim reports are accepted. It is preferable that interim reports be submitted by courier or mail. Facsimile copies of illustrative materials (maps, plans of surveys) are generally of poor quality.

Based upon an evaluation of the results of the field studies and the recommendations contained within the report, Alberta Community Development (i.e. the Cultural Facilities and Historical Resources Division) may grant Historical Resources Act clearance for the activity, or require the applicant to undertake salvage, preservation, or protective measures. These measures could include excavations, modifications to the boundaries of the activity, or the relocation of the activity. Upon the completion of these additional measures, Historical Resources Act clearance is normally granted.
